The Necessity for an Appropriation to Provide Buildings for the State's Colored Insane.

Austin Asylum and Reports the Condition of the Patients.

Colonel Abner Taylor Bendy to Confer With the Capitol Board in Regard to Accepting the Building.

Special to the Gazette.

AUSTIN, TEX., May 6 .- Among the appropriations asked by the numerons elle-mosynary and other instituti as of the state none appeals more strongly to the sense of justice or humanity of the man who investigates before he acts than that asked by the managers of the State Lunatic Asylum to enable them to provide suitable quarters for the colored busane. Anxious to learn the true state of the case, and not satisfied to take the report of the special investigating committee appointed by the House, a GAZETTE representative visited the institution for the purpose of learning for himself and the readers of The GAZETTE the exact condition of affairs. He was shown through every department of the great establishment, and he found the condi-tion to be exactly as described by the mana ement. The departments set aside for the care of colored females are totally inadequate, and entirely unfit for the uses to which they are put. There are thirty-eight of these unfortunates now at the institution. About half the number are kept in the basement of the old building. The remainder are kept in the rooms of a building erected for shops and launsleeping apartments. In one of the sleeping rooms are some five or six beds, and that many patients must be put there to sleep. Only three single rooms are provided and two of these being continually used for violent patients, only one is left for use in cases of an emergency. These rooms are all unfit for use. There is no way of heating them except by stoves in the hall, a mode entirely ineffi SEVERE WINTER WEATHER, and during the cold periods of the last two winters it has exercised the attend ants to keep the patients from freezing to death. They are, of course, provided with ample covering for their beds, but, being as incapable of caring for themselves as babies, some of them throw the covers off in their restlessness and would perish with cold but for the watchfulness CROWDED INTO TWO ROOMS which are in no wise fit for their occupancy. Among thirty-eight insane peo ple, taken as they come, there are sure to be a number of violent ones, some, perhaps, who are violent all the time, and others who become so msane at intervals. Those should all have separate sleeping apartments, for nobody can tell at what hour of the night madness may selza upon them, and the lives of their invalsd roommates be endangered before help can reach them. The attendants, having put their charges to bed at the usual hour, quiet and peaceful as lambs, are frequently awak ened from their own slumbers by

SHRIEKS AND CRIES. and rush in to find the funatics fighting like demons. In the laundry building there are no single apartments, and in the basement only three, as mentioned above, two being occupied all the time by dangerous patients, leaving one single apartment empty. When one patient becomes violent she can be this room by herself, and the others freed from her dangerous presence. But suppose two become wild at once. One must be handcuffed and tied down. This is cruel, but necessary, and the fact that it frequently occurs reflects, not upon the management of the asylum, but upon the state which fails to provide suitable and sufficient buildings. The forty colored males are well provided for, being kept in the north building in apartments equal to any in the institution, and receiving the same care and attention as the whites. The asylum management think the best plan to provide proper room is to surrender the north building entirely to the negroes and to erect another building for the whit s now confined there. The best way to remedy the difficulty is a question for the decision of the Legislature. That something should be done is unques-

COLONEL ABNER TAYLOR ARRIVES. Special to the Gazette.

Austin, Tax, May 6 .- Colonel Abner Taylor of the capitol syndicate has arrived and will confer with the capitol board to-morrow in reference to receiving the new building. There are some few think that the building may not be received. The act creating the board says the original contract shall not be broken, and it provides that the building shall not be received till completed. It is not yet completed and there is some [question as to the power of the board to receive it.

rapidly increasing in value, and toings are on a boom generally. The improvements now on foot are notably a $25,000 courthouse, $10,000 school building, $5000 Methodist church house, three or four new brick storehouses and about ten new residences. It is also thought an effort will be made to get a new depot here, as the present one is not near large enough ior full accommodations, and does not look well with the increasing size of the town, being built some twenty years ago. ### THE PANAMA CARAL.

An Engineer Explains the Work Being Done on the Enterprise.

NRW YORK, May 6 .- W. P. Williams, engineer of the Nicaragua Casal Company, arrived from Panama yesterday by the steamer Colon. He has been making extensive investigations along the line of the Panama Canal during the last two months, He says a vast amount of work has been done on the Panama Canal, but in his judgment much of it in a very uneconomical manner. It is only a ques tion of money, he thinks, when the causl will be flaished. His opinion, formed by careful estimates, is that the 600,000,000 france, ideclared by DeLesseps sufficient to complete the work, is about half the amount required. At present serious features outside of the new system of locks present themselves in the unruly Chagres river, and in the absence of stone of a quality suitable for making concrete for the locks. One of the most serious difficulties in the way of rapid and economical work is the absence of sufficient skilled min and the substitution of Jamaican negroes, which has resulted disastrously to economic work The American contractors are the only ones who have employed laborers of high intelligence, and the vigor of their work is in marked contrast with that of other contractors whose dredges are manipu-lated by Jamaican negroes, Greeks, Italians and Colombians.

STORE PLUNDERERS.

two Farmers Arrested on Suspicion—Stolen Goods Becovered. special to the Gazette.

WORTHAM, TEX , May 6 -Last Tuesday | ton?" night the storehouse of J. J. Stubbs was stolen. It was kept quiet until to day, when Deputy Sheriff W. M. Seley went to Pisgah Ridge and brought back Will Over-street and J. S. Haynes, both young men working on farms in that neighborhood He also brought in a part of the stolen goods. The parties are now under guard and will have their examining trial to-morrow, when the officers expect to get some valuable is formation, as the town has been bothered by safe crackers and bur glars for some time. Last November two sifes were blown open, and no trace of the parties who did it was found at the ime, but the officers think they have things in shape to stop such work.

Mr. Zely starts to-night with two attached witnesses for Madisonville. On his return some good news is expected as he is a good officer and will stop such work if any one can.

The men who accompanied Mixon had a rope and their intention was "good enough" and there was plenty of big trees in the bottom, but our constable would not permit any "engagement," and by telling the mob that the negro would surely get twenty or thirty years for attempt to murder he succeeded in bringing his prisoner to jail. This negro served a two year term in the Fort Snith penitentiary for carving work he did a few years ago. Marshal Cutler is a great deal better today and, it is thought, is out of danger.

A UNIQUE DUEL.

Two Western Ladies Querrel Over the Affection of a Young Combor.

St. Louis, Mo., May 6 -News from Luns Valley, N. M., gives an account of between Misses Sarah Bolton and Mary Lemoore, who fought a duel last week, the result of a quarrel for the affections of a young cowboy, Whitman. In this duel Miss Lemoore was shot through the snoulder, but recovered in a few days, and last evening, closely veiled, went to the house of her hated rival, and meeting her at the gate, shot her dead. Returning to her home she proudly boasted of the crime. She was soon after placed under son of the murdered woman. It is be-lieved that she, too, was awaiting an op-portualty to flaish the work of the duel.

Whitelaw Reid Says the Stories that Blaine is to Make an Aggressive Canvass are all Bosh.

Withdrawing his Name and Did it in Good Faith.

Every One Waiting to See if Anybody Else Develops Strangth Rnough to Carry the Doubiful States.

AN IMPROBABLE POSSIBILITY.

NEW York, May 6 -"The comments in the Tribune reflect my sentiments exactly," said Whitelaw Reid, the editor, to a reporter, and he pointed out the paragraph. It said that the story of the Philadelphia Times correspondent was like the recent stuff about Mr. Blaine's dreadful state of health, chiefly bosh.

Continuing, Mr. Reid said: "I do not know that I need say any more. There is nothing in the story."

"Can you believe Mr. Blaine will not be a candidate?"

COULD GIVE REASONABLE PROMISE of carrying enough of the doubtful states to secure the election. The sound Republican who can now convince the party that he could probably get more votes than any other sound Republican in the doubtful states, would be sure of a cor-dial support of those who have heretofore pushed Mr. Blaine"

"Is it true, Mr Reid, that Mr. Blaine's friends in New York have been pushing Mr. Blaine in spite of his letter of declina-

"So far as I know, there is nothing in broken into and goods, such as clothing, it. I certainly have not been concerned boots, hats, silk handkerchiefs, etc., were in any combination or organization to push him, nor have I reason to suppose that any of the other gentlemen named in the Philadelphia latter have been. I have waited and I think all have been waiting to see if anybody else develops such popular strength as would seem to give assurance of carrying the doubtful states. If good ground could be shown for hoping that Mr. Sherman could carry New York, I should be delighted and would give him the hearliest support I know how. The same might be said of HARRISON, GRESHAM OR ALLISON. If Chauncey M. Depew himself, or his most sagacious political friends believed that while carrying certain doubtful states in the east he would not run the greatest risk of losing several important Republican states not run of losing at the west, we should support him with affection and enthusiasm. The Chicago convention, when it meets, will, above all merely personal consideration, try to nominate to win."

"Then do you think there is any possibility of Mr. Blaine's nomination?' "Yes, a possibility. Blaine has withdrawn his name as a candidate, which was his right. The party is engaged in DENISON, TEX., May 6.—The party of considering the names of other candi-nen headed with Constable Mixon, who dates, who are offered under the prevailing volunteer system and the convention will do the same. If after full consideration it fails to find any other candidate about whose strength in the about 3 o'clock this morning with the doubtful states it feels an equal degree of confidence it may finally conclude, as Mr. war, that the volunteer business

IS PLAYED OUT and that a draft must be ordered. That contingency may never occur and at present it is certainly distant. But should it occur I believe the services of the Republican party at this time to be in the highest sense to be in the highest sense the service of the country, and see no reason why Mr. Blaine, more than any other citizen who has sought and received honors from his party, could or should be excepted from its draft. To refuse under such circumstances, in fact, seems not unlike desertion in the face of the enemy. If the Presidency is not an office to be sought, as some say it is, certainly it is not one to be refused. I do not know any public man in the United States big enough to undertake to refuse the greatest office without making himself ridiculous, or worse."

"Do you know, Mr. Reid, whether Mr. Blaine has written lately to any of his the tragic and fatal result of difficulties friends in this city on presidential ques-"Not to my knowledge. In fact, the only letters I have seen or heard of from him since the Florence letter has absolutely refrained from any reference what-ever to political questions."

An advertisement from a Prague (Hungary) newspaper is translated as follows:
"A literary lady would like to meet a literary gentlems; with a view to matrimony. Prose preferred, as the lady is a poetess, and contrasts generally harmonize best—matrimoniany."
